At the time of the last election I, in common; with the Municipal bedy generally supposed that there was sufficient power granted under the 'Incorporation Act' to allow the Mayor and Council to continue the works then commenced and partially completed; and also to make many further improvements for the general benefit, such as a general sewerage, the grading and macadamizing of many streets which the traffic and commerce of the public absolutely demand; the lighting of the principal streets with gas, and other important improvements which were then in contemplation. But the decision of 'the Honble, Chief Justice in the suit of the "Corporation vs, Ring," had the offect of rendering the Council powerless during he past year for any thing useful, and prevented the carrying out of any of the pumerous improvements intended. During the first municipal year the Corporation in curried a liability in the shape of a loan, for the payment of which as yet means have only been in part provided. The proceeds of that loan were expended in making streets; and no doubt you, fellow electors, feel with me that the liability thus incurred should be promptly and faithfully met, and I had hoped that during the past year such measures would have been adopted by the Corporation as would have been adop The well-known Pianiste,

THE POLICE DEPARTMENT. Young countries, like young people, have trying ordeals to pass through. No sooner are they out of one misfortune than they are into another. Still, with a vitality and clasticity unknown in more mature years, they skake off misfortune as the spaniel does the water, and are ready once more to plunge into trouble. As an infant colony, v had our share of the stumbles and falls of early life, and with the happy obliviousness of past dangers-the utter defiance of stern experience-which characterises childhood still go on our untfinking way, as if the world were a play-ground, and our chief occupation a hunt after butterflies. From 1858. our history is one of official mismanagement and abuse. Now it is defaulting, then embezzeling, and again gross neglect. When the mischief has grown too great for conceal= ment, it forces itself on public attention, and for a time we wonder how such things can be; but our dear-bought experience never teaches us to amend. It is true we sometimes punish the guilty when they are discovered, but we take no pains to guard against future malfearance.

The evidence which has just been given in our Police Court in the case against the Superintendent of Police, unfolds a state of affairs as discreditable to our police department as it is injurious to the public interest; yet, although the abuses have probably existed in Victoria since the year 1859, by the merest accident, we are first made acquainted with the facts in the Police Court in this autumn of 1864. It is not to be presumed, however, that during all this period gamblers have been plying their vocation in the public houses of the place, unknown to the public. On the contrary, everybody seemed to b aware of the matter but those whose especial duty it was to detect and bring the culprits justice. Occasionally an unfortunate Chinaman would be brought up for winning his brother celestial's money, but it was frequently pointed out by the press, that there was much higher game to look after than the Chinese. The "high game," however, remained unmolested. We do not intend here, of course, to touch upon the merits of the case which was yesterday sent to a higher court has been sufficient adduced to show how much our Police Department requires the sweeping hand of reform. A department that has been a terror to only the uninfluential evil-doer is not the sort of institution required in a colony like our own. Playing a game of "faro" is, without doubt, morally no worse than betting on norse-races; but so long as the former is prohibited by law, justice requires that its supporters and abetters should be punished. We cannot afford to have the law winked at; for the foundation of society depends on its impartial and strict administration. If gambling is to be permitted, let it be done openly, under the control of and by license from the authorities; but let it not be said that we have laws in the country which we cannot enforce. So far, we have got along peacefully and quietly. For a town peopled up originally by men of all nationalities, and migratory in their tendencies, Victoria has been peculiarly exempt from crimes of a serious character; but this satisfactory result has been in no way owing to the exertions of the police. In their case, we have had the evil effects of ill-paid officers. We have had men set to watch over the public salety, who were paid the merest pittance, and that in the most irregular and fitful manner. Can it be wondered at that, under such circumstances, the guardianship of the public should be subject to influences which cat at the very root of public safety? Are members of the police presumed to be of a higher order of human nature than the general race of mankind, that temptation should come to them in vain? Experience the safety is a special to the dredging machine. Mr. Franklin said he was not aware that this question was on the orders of the day. The Speaker said the hon, gentleman should come to them in vain? Experience the dredging machine. The Speaker said the hon, gentleman should come to them in vain? Experience to the dredging machine. The speaker said the hon gentleman should come to them in vain? Experience to the dredging machine. The speaker said the hon gentleman should come to them in vain? Experience to the dredging machine. Il countries the necessity of the people watching the police as much as the police watching the people. If we desire honesty in any branch of the public service, in fact, we mus watch it; but our first duty is to remove that most productive of all moral weaknessesthe want of money. Our police force is too inadequately paid to become effective. We shall have to pay more, and hold out an induceement for a good class of men to enrol themselves in the force. We shall also have to alte the whole internal management of the department. A few days ago we suggested the propriety of putting the institution under the control of the corporation-into the hands of the people. The thing will have to be done sooner or later, as much for the sake of economy, as for efficiency in protecting public property and carrying out the law. We have had enough of departments under Execuselected by the Governor from the inhabitants of Victoria City, and that the Executive and so that cannot yet obtain responsible government, and so assume the management of the whole of our public affairs; but we can get, through the action of our House of Assembly, an Act of tive control. In every one of them Incorporation that will place the police department completely under the control of the inhabitants. Let our Legislature look to it, and not be carried away by the drivelling of these who would appose to-morrow, if they

The House went into Committee, Mr. Cochrane in the chair, on the CORONER'S BILL

ORONER'S BILL.

Dr. Dickson said the cully object of this bill was to extend the English law, as it now exists, to this colony. The law here at present was very ambigaous and unsatisfactory. The following schedule of fees had been prepared, and were approved of by the faculty generally:

Medical inspection and evidence, $10;

travel from the usual place of his abode, attend an inquisition, the further sum of cents per mile shall be paid to him, and or every mile which any ompelled to travel for the like purpose, the compelled to travel for the like purpose, the expenses actually and reasonably incurred shall be allowed; witnesses' remuneration and expenses at the discretion of the Coroner; there shall be a "Coroner's Officer" who shall also be a Polico Officer, $25 per month. Mr. DeCosmos thought the fees for chemical analysis should be fixed, and also that the witnesses' fees should not be left to the discretion of the Coroner.

mr. DeCosmos thought the tees for chemical analysis should be fixed, and also that the witnesses? fees should not be left to the discretion of the Coroner.

Mr. C. B. Young said he thought they were hero to legislate for the country, and not for individuals. We had a Mayor's bill, a Registrar's bill, a Coroner's bill, and we would soon have every official bringing in a bill to secure his position. He thought the proposed mode of fixing the fees was prosterous; the Coroner would need to be a very discreet man indeed to have so much felt to his discretion. (A laugh.) He thought the fees exhorbitant. There was really no Coroner at all here; it was only a temperary appointment from time to time. If we were to have a Coroner's bill et us have the Coroner elective; but he (Mr. Young) was opposed to having a Coroner at all. Let any Justice of the Peace act as Coroner who necession required. It was ridiculous to make the Chief Justice ex office a Coroner as many seed to having a Coroner at all. Let any Justice of the Peace act as Coroner whom accasion required. It was ridiculous to make the Chief Justice ex office a Coroner whom a coroner are many and the divided it with the last twelve months. The fact was this was entirely a personal bill with the hon, gentleman seemed boiling over with warmth and nearly on the point of explosion over this bill. He was evidently poorly informed on the question, as the very points he had objected to wore taken from the explanation, as the very points he had objected to wore taken from the coroners being elective, there being no coroner himself, that he did not

The Chairman called Mr. Young to order.
Dr. Trimble said there could be no difference of opinion among hon, members as to the need of such a bill as proposed.
Mr. Franklin supported the bill, although it was perhaps rather unfortunate that it should be introduced by the coroner himself. The fees proposed were perhaps reasonable, but he objected to the witness's lees being left at the discretion of the coroner.
Dr. Helmcken said the hon junior member for the city had said we had neither a coroner nor coroner's law in the colony; if that was not the strongest argument for this

John George Taylor—I am a private night watchman; not one of the police. I had a conversation with Mr. Smith about a squaw somebody had taken from Mr. Foucault. It was about a year ago Mr. Smith said Foucault gave him money and he divided it with Blake. It was for getting the squaw back. He did not tell me the amount. I have spoken to Mr. Smith about gambling houses within the last twelve months. He told me when I have been knocking round at night that I could keep an eye on the gambling houses, and if there was any danger of the police particular house he mentioned. I knew the house- as well as he did. It was a general For New Westminster

He replied that any arrangement that would suit me being in some measure above the Crown hon, members would remember a case where a British soldier had heen flogged to death and although all the influence of the Crown was brought to bear against the coroner, he had proceeded with his inquest. The intention of this was to defeat the ends of justice.

In addition to the above-mentioned wealth which the Company believe they possess in the coal itself, there are some other sources of profit which the Company will enjoy, and which must add greatly to the value of their property.

SPARS, LUMBER AND SHIPPHILDING.—The whole territory possessed by the Company, and far into the interior, is covered by a magnificent growth of timber, suitable for spars, lumber, and shipbuilding, at one of the most convenient points for shipment in Washington Territory.

A BOUT TWENTY MILES INSIDE OF Cape Flattery, on the southern shore of the Straits of Fuca, there have been discovered, cropping out in the face of a cliff of sandstone, two scams of a superior quality of coal, respectively 22 and 8 inches thick, differing from all other coal yet found on this coast, and approaching very nearly to the best anthracite.

The hill or cliff in which this coal is found extends from Clallam Bay to Pillar Point, (eight or nine miles) and is several hundred feet in height. It rises abruptly and nearly perpendicularly from a bold shore, and with scarcely any breadth of summit descends as suddenly on the landward side; so that it is netually nothing more than a wedge of rock, which in some tremendous convulsion of nature has been forced up from its natural position, as if for the purpose of revealing to us the wealth in coal held in the subjecent strata, and which otherwise might long have lain there unsuspected. Behind this hill, stretching for aeveral miles castward and southward from Clallam Bay, the surface of the country is almost level, affording the strong presumption that throughout that district the underlying strata will be found undisturbed.

In yiew of the cligible situation of this coal field, the superior qualities of the coal and other important considerations, a Joint Stock Company, with limited liability, has been organized at Vietoria, Vancouver Island, under the Vancouver Joint Stock Companies Act, which is simply the cell known English 'Limited Liability Act,' for the purpose of procuring land and working this coal mine.

Property from Sale of Lands and Town Stre.—This Company being proprietor of all the land around Clallam Bay, which is a commodious harbor, and in the main well sheltered, will, in due time, lay out a town, alroady appropriately named in honor of the discoverer of these waters "Feea." While a liberal policy will at first govern the Company in the disposal of their lands and town lots, yet, if the main purpose of the Company—coal mining—is prosecuted with the vigor the enterprise deserves, specially in view of the high price of coal on this ocean, and the rapidly increasing consumption, it can be no very distant at this time only about fifty cents per acre.

The Company was organized June 1, 1864, and immediately commenced work by mining the principal seam in the tace of the chiff, about twenty-five feet above high water mark. At the same time they engaged the services of the most experienced mining engineer in the country (Mr. Landale) to examine the mine and adiacent formations and trenot most he same and to addice mations, and report upon the same, and adiagent for the Company as to their future operations.

Mr. Landade reported that "a unine had been driven into coal, cropping out about four miles west of Pillar Point, and after crossing two faults got into clean coal 21½ inches thick," that it has been thrown up by a "fault," or to use his own language, "a great penine fault, traceable for at least nine miles from Pillar Point westward." "It not unfrequently happens," he says, "that a great disturbance like this leaves the hold comparatively clean, I therefore directed my attention to the other side of the range and lands beyond it, examining the inner side of the bluff and clallam River and several small streams and ridges in the valley.

Clallam River and several small streams and ridges in the valley.

"The inner side of the range on the west end is nearly vertical, gradually flattening as you proceed eastward, presenting a fine, gently undulating surface; I examined the sides several specific services of the valley, and got a soft yellow sandstone in each of them, but could neither get anything like inclusion or thickness; this sandstone alves one some idea of continuity, and the probability is that a series of small defached (coal) basins extend south, one after another, for a great distance inland."

Mr. Landale further says, that the fossils, which he found in great abundance indicate that the field is one of recent date. "There is hardly a shale or sandstore that does not contain carbonized vegetable matter, in or through them, which tends to show that the deposit will not be regular, and all the beds will be subject to thickening and thimthing at intervals." And he recom-

The space Mr. Landale mentions as colored pink would cover more than 15,000 acres, and at 2,250 tons per acre would hold about thirty-three millions of tons, or coal enough, supposing the mine to yield 300 tons per day, to last 300 years.

Mr. Landale says he is "of opinion that the coal will make a capital steam coal" and that "coal in this locality would have many advantages over any field yet discovered."

In conclusion Mr. Landale says, "If the bore is successful, a shaft should be sunk and a level driven about 300 yards, without breaking rooms; if that breadth is obtained, I think working may be commenced briskly; a transway can be easily laid to any point of the Bay (Clailam Bay) without encountering any engineering difficulties, laid to any point of the Bay (Clailam Bay) without encountering any engineering difficulties, and I do not think a wharf with shutes would be a difficult undertaking.

In conformity with Mr. Landale's advice a bore was put down at the soint he recommended and the 22-inch stam was reached on the 12th September last, at 5 depth of 23 fathoms. The Company intend to bontone boring in hopes of finding the thicker coals which Mr. Landale expects will be found there. His judgment has been so happily proved in the former instance that the company have the creater confidence in continuing to follow his advice.

The Engineer says: "On breaking the large lumps I found it contained veins of sandstone varying from half to one and a half inches thick. The coal is quite hard and comes nearer to the anthractic than any other coal I ever saw. Governor Pickeriag, General McDowell, and others witnessed the performance of the coal and were satisfied the sandstone was the cause of so much clinker.

Engineer of the Enterprise says — Your coal burnt with a white Bane and a brown smoke, free from sulphur, leaving a small cinder and but very little sakes, I consider it generated more steam than any other coal I have tried and used. You is well adapted for steaming purposes, having tried 250lbs, of the coal against 250lbs, of the Nanaimo slack coal. We kept steam up three mes longer with the same quantity of coal from the Fuca Straits Company, as with the one from Nanaimo, we are satisfied that the coal is better than any we have ever tried for steam. We have been trying the coal for melting, but the result was not satisfactory; the iron was as hard as any steel and could not be worked.

What its precise economic value may be for steam or manufacturing purposes, therefore, remains to be proved; although there can be no doubt the clean coal will be very valuable for making steam. It frequently happens that a coal which is worse than uscless for one purpose is indispensable in another, and sometimes that in ninon with others it may work well, while alone it may be useless or even injurious. As a coal for household use, however, it is perfectly fair to say it must become a great favorite, and rate with the best coals known for cleanliness and producing a cheerful fire, and that for this purpose alone it must always command several dollars par for more than the sulphurous and dirty coals with which the markets of the Pacific are usually supplied. supplied,

PROPIT.

This mine being directly in the line of communication between Victoria and San Francisco, the Company can place their coal in the San Francisco market at about $22 less freight perton, tand the cost of freight from Nanaimo. It can be brought to Victoria for $1 50 per ton, while it costs from $2.50 to $3 freight from Nanaimo.

Being on United States Territory the coal will have to pay no duty in San Francisco, which is now a tax of $1.65 per ton on all Nanaimo coal consumed there; while it will enjoy equal terms in all other markets of the Pacific. So that in these two items alone of freight and duty the Fuca Straits coal will cost in San Francisco $3.65 per ton less than Nanaimo coal, viz.—Preight $2.00 Duty $3 65.

If, however, no other than the $2.5 inch, scam

Duty $1 65.

If, however, no other than the 22 inch seam shall be found, Mr. Landale though, it might cost from 25 to 50 cents more per ton to mine this coal than the Hanaima; allowing the latter to be the extra cost there would get be $3 15 per ton in favor of the costs of the Fuca Straits coal in San Francisco.

It is, of course, premature to attempt to estimate what the income of the Company may be untif some idea can be formed of the monthly or annual yield of coal. But it is not difficult to estimate what the cost of a ton of coal will be, and to form NEW ADVERTISEMENTS

Total.....$85,000

In this estimate a large sum is allowed for incidentals, because, in all such enterprizes, many unexpected expenses arises; but it is confidently believed by the Company that before the expenditure of $50,000, the mine will be earning a large income from the sale of coal. The reasons why so small an outlay will suffice are, that there no engineering difficulties whatever to overcome; at the point on Clalam Bay, nearest to where the first shaft will be opened, there is a well protected cove with deep water; where, in Mr Landale's opinion, a suitable wharf with shutes could be constructed for less than $5,000. The grade for the tramway from the pit to said wharf, is just sufficient to bring lown the laden cars by their own momentum, and carry back on the double track the empty cars and there is no obstruction whatever in the making of the tramway, except the trees upon the line, which are, of course, in the most convenient places for the timber required in its construction. These points are greatly in favor of this Combany; compared with the New Harewood Coal lompany, where the first item of expense which he Company, where the first item of expense which he Company, where the first item of expense which less construction undertakes is the construction of a aliroad five mites in length, at a cost of about 100,000. The beneficiary appeared in Tom Taylor's admirable comedy "Still Waters run Deep," and in our estimation made the greatest hit of the season as John Mildmay. In the great scene between Mildmay and Capt. Hawkesley J. H. Mr. Taylor played the disguised swindler and dealer in galvanic stock in the most careful manner. We do not think that we have ever seen him to greater advantage in coincedy. Mrs. Irwin though not naturally adapted to the character of the strong-minded Mrs. Sternhold, nevertheless performed it exceedingly wolf, and Miss Hinckley as Mrs. Midmay both looked and played the part nicely. Fire—Yesterday morning about half-past six two of the supernumaries who sleep in the back part of the theatre were awakened by a strong smell of burning wood, and on going on the stage discovered several of the wings on fire. The alarm was at once given by the bell on the Truck-house and the Hook and Ladder apparatus was speedily on the spot, closely followed by the Deluge and Tiger companies. The Deluge engine threw the first water and in a very few minutes the first water and in a very few minutes the first water and in a very few minutes the first water and in a very few minutes the first water and in a very few minutes the first water and in a very few minutes the first water and in a very few minutes the had burnt through the floor, apparently from the under side, and was rapidly spreading to the scenery when discovered. The damage done to the theatre property will probably reach three or four hundred dollars, and it is solely owing to the prompt and vigorous efforts of the Fire department that the whole building was not destroyed, and with it doubtless the whole blook between Bastion and Fort streets, as a strong northwest wind was blowing at the time. The origin of the fire is unknown, and suspicious of incendiarism are entertained.
